A child turns on the community tap and she sees her clear reflection. No more walking miles just for clean water. A farmer sees the seedlings she has tenderly cared for through the seasons bear fruit. She beams to herself—knowing today's harvest means food for her family tomorrow, and school for her children to build a better future.

Faith in Action

At World Vision, the work of Jesus is at the heart of all we do, so that everyone, including the world's most vulnerable children, can experience the fullness of life.

Just as He welcomed little children, blessing and holding them close, we see His love in the face of every child we serve. Each act of care reflects His heart—healing the broken, comforting the lost, and reminding them they are precious in His sight.

"I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness."

Fund A Village Entrepreneur

Imagine planting a tiny seed and watching it grow into a big, strong tree. That's what your gift does with microfinance! A small loan helps enterprising villagers start or grow their little shops, farms, or businesses. As their incomes grow, so does their ability to care for their children—with healthy meals, school supplies, and savings for the future.

Here's the best part: when they repay the loan, it's given to another family to help their dreams grow too. It's like a never-ending cycle of hope and happiness.

Support the dreams and families of these 5 amazing women, and see your gift multiply 3.2 times in impact!

Thida

In the past, Thida's husband was the sole provider for their family. To ease their financial burden, Thida decided to start a small rice-selling business. However, as a new entrepreneur, she faced challenges in keeping her business afloat.

In 2019, a friend introduced her to World Vision's microfinance services. With the help of a microsavings programme, Thida was able to kickstart her rice business. That same year, she received her first loan of 400,000 MMK (250 SGD), which allowed her to invest in her rice business.

From there, Thida used her profits to open a grocery store and expand her inventory. She now runs several small enterprises, including selling clothes, firewood, and growing jasmine in her yard.

“With these various small businesses, I can properly support my son's school fees, food, and clothes. I want to send him to a better school for a better education,” shared Thida.

Crisis & Disaster Response

A child forced to flee from conflict, hunger, or disaster loses everything in an instant. Their world shrinks to the weight of an old backpack with a few clothes, a worn-out toy, or a tattered book—a piece of what used to be home. Days are spent waiting—always waiting. For food that may not come, for a shelter that may not stand, for a tomorrow that feels just like yesterday. We go to the epicenters of these emergencies to remind them that someone cares and the light of hope still shines.

Tackle Urban Poverty

For a child in the slums, home is a cramped, leaky house on a dumpsite or beside a sewage drain. Unreliable electricity, dirty communal toilets, and contaminated water are just some of the harsh living conditions they have to endure. While the city around them thrives, they remain neglected. We go to these overlooked corners to stand by their side, keeping their light shining, showing them that someone believes in their potential, and that their dreams are worth fighting for.

Once a Sponsored Child, Now a Teacher

I joined World Vision's sponsorship programme when I was in primary school. I participated in many activities where I learnt about proper hygiene and sanitation. I also participated in the children's club, and attended child rights meetings where I learnt more about my rights as a child, and gained knowledge on how to protect myself from any form of abuse.

I have also written letters to my sponsor. I was very happy to receive letters and gifts from my sponsor. My sponsor encouraged me to continue working hard in my studies.

This is one of the reasons why I kept on working hard in my studies until I reached my dream of becoming a teacher to educate the next generation.

I now work closely with World Vision to help promote child rights, proper hand washing and sanitation, and personal hygiene. I also help in monitoring and reporting the health and education status of the children in my community.

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my sponsor for always writing letters to me and the contribution to my community. Thank you sponsor!

Somaly, 21 years old, who was once a sponsored child grew up to fulfil her dream as a primary school teacher in Kirivong District, Cambodia.

Joy of a Child Sponsor

“Children from disadvantaged families often feel invisible and think they are nobodies. I hope that through me, my sponsored children understand that God sees them, and they are precious to Him.”

MONICA LIM

World Vision Singapore Child Sponsor

Author and artist, Monica Lim, began her sponsorship journey in 2024. She chose to sponsor 6 girls as she recognised that in parts of Asia, girls often face undervaluation and discrimination. They are at greater risk of harmful practices such as child marriage, sexual abuse, and domestic violence.

“While drawing their portraits, I realised how deeply each child is fearfully and wonderfully made by God—I saw them through His eyes,” shared Monica.

One of those portraits travelled from Singapore to the hilly outskirts of Mongolia and found its way into the hands of 11-year-old Maral, Monica's sponsored child—who had been waiting for a sponsor for 2 years.

“Thank you for drawing me. Your letter made me feel warm and encouraged. I'm sure I'll become a doctor when I grow up. I will study hard,” said Maral.

Orphans

Childhood is meant to be a child's best years. In the midst of their struggles, your sponsorship can help bring hope and confidence to orphaned children.

Out-Of-Home Care Children with Special Learning Needs in Singapore

"I feel more confident in class now. I like spelling and want to get better at it. The lessons have been so helpful to me."

These were the words of Alex*, a Primary 5 student who has found new joy in learning through the support of World Vision's One Life Fund Programme. His journey has not been smooth sailing.

He was placed in out-of-home care due to family issues, leaving behind the comfort of home and loved ones. School was also tough. With ADHD and dyslexia, Alex struggled to focus and understand his lessons, often feeling disheartened and overwhelmed.

Hope arrived when Alex was supported by World Vision's One Life Fund in 2023 to attend the learning support programme delivered by Dyslexia Association of Singapore (DAS). Tailored lessons crafted to his learning needs helped him to progress at his own pace.

Over time, Alex grew more confident in tackling topics that were once daunting for him. His potential truly came to light as he went from failing his English assessments to scoring an impressive 83 marks in his recent 2024 mid-year exam.

"It is heartwarming to hear how Alex has overcome his challenges like a true champion. He has always been an eager and determined learner. I am confident that with perseverance, he can conquer many more mountains," said Alex's educational therapist.

Alex's educational journey shows how, with the right support, children's potential can truly shine. Empower a child today—contribute to the One Life Fund and make a real difference.
